Yellow warning
Snow & Ice

Between 15:53 Mon 16 Jan 2023 and
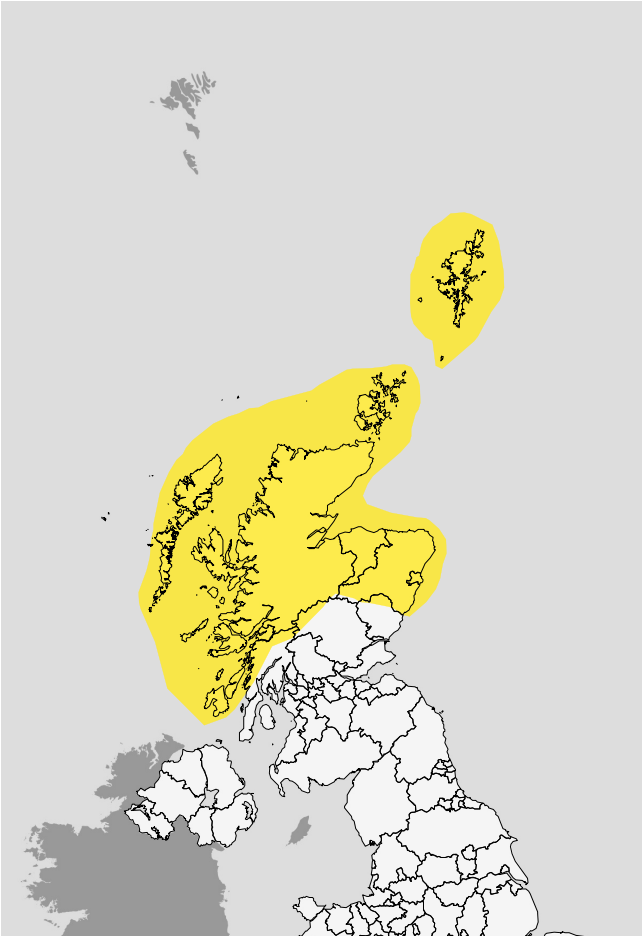
09:00 Wed 18 Jan 2023



Snow and hail showers, heavy at times, bringing further accumulations, icy conditions and disruption to transport.

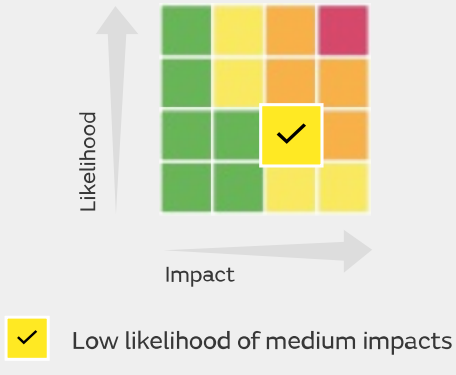
What to expect

- Possible travel delays on roads stranding some vehicles and passengers
- Possible delays or cancellations to bus, rail and air travel, with some road closures and longer journey times possible
- Some rural communities could become cut off
- Power cuts may occur and other services, such as mobile phone coverage, may be affected
- A chance of injuries from slips and falls on icy surfaces
- Untreated pavements and cycle paths might be impassable

Further details

Further frequent, heavy snow showers are likely for much of the area through the rest of Monday, much of Tuesday, lasting into Wednesday morning.

Away from immediate coasts a further 2-5 cm of snow is likely, with 10-20 cm possible above about 100 m. As well as this, a more prolonged period of snow may affect Shetland and Orkney Tuesday morning, before this band of more persistent snow affects other parts of northeast Scotland. As winds increase into Tuesday, some drifting of snow, and temporary blizzard conditions are possible. Ice will be an additional hazard.



✓ Low likelihood of medium impacts
